Program-Level Learning Outcomes

By the time that undergraduate students graduate from our programs, they will:

1. be able to demonstrate critical knowledge and understanding of one of the department's six discipline subfields;
2. be able to convey their knowledge in a written academic essay;
3. be able to convey their knowledge in an oral presentation, demonstrating knowledge of a particular area of a department subfield;
4. be able to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of research methods and scholarly advancements in the discipline subfields.
